

Spring 2010 issue of Monitor now online

The second edition of JVC Professional's in-house magazine, Monitor, is now available online and for download.

From large-scale monitoring at North Lanarkshire Council's surveillance unit, to JVC's partnerships with Kenwood and Synectics, you'll find all you need to know about JVC's latest surveillance innovations in the spring issue.

Providing users with sophisticated security options, the issue also includes integrated control room solutions from JVC and Kenwood, which combine the management of video surveillance and voice communications for control room applications.

Follow the link to download issue two of JVC's Monitor magazine.